The primary sleeping surface is provided by 100% Natural Dunlopillo[®] Talalay latex, which delivers unmistakable luxury. Renowned for its natural breathability and unique buoyant feel, it contours the body with precision, delivers targeted pressure relief and supports healthy spinal alignment. Its inherent hypoallergenic, anti-bacterial, and anti-microbial properties ensure a sleep surface that feels as pure as it is indulgent.

The supporting foundation is created with our new VENTRA Core Performance System. An innovative precision-engineered aerated foam structure that promotes airflow and ventilation. This design actively channels air through the mattress, dispersing naturally occurring heat, and enhances airflow. The result is optimal thermal balance, keeping you perfectly cool in every season.

Each model is upholstered in our "Dunlopillo[®] plus" fabric, which is designed to enhance even further the excellent cooling and ventilated sleeping surface provided by the Dunlopillo[®] Talalay latex. The highly conductive properties of this intelligent fabric maintain the sleeping surface temperature at 1°C below body temperature to provide a cooler and more relaxing sleep environment.

Together, these innovations form a synergy of cooling comfort and enduring support, designed to maintain perfect thermal equilibrium and promote long-term health and vitality.
